LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

The following documentation comprises the proposed 2019 operating budget for the Durham Police Department. It remains the department's goal to comprehensively meet the needs of the Durham community by responding to every call for service and satisfactorily addressing all issues. Additionally the organization strives to ensure that Durham remains a safe, desirous community where families want to live, prosper and raise their family without concern of crime. Responsible law enforcement is reflecting and reaffirming their mission and purpose and the Durham Police are restating our commitment to a "guardian" approach to the delivery of law enforcement services. While we have long embraced a policing philosophy that stresses ethics, commitment and consistency, many of our peers across the country are attempting to return, or create this style of policing to make inroads with their community. Our efforts to address quality of life issues that concern the citizens of Durham reinforces our commitment to be a proactive police agency addressing small issues before they become large and problematic and to maintain our close and personal relationships with the residents of Durham. Over the past several years the POP officer, or Problem Oriented Policing position, has demonstrated success with preemptively working with off-campus apartments to lessen the demands upon the department. However the escalating calls for service, especially during weekend days, has not lessened in spite of a number of strategies and needs to be addressed. Last year the Durham Town Council authorized an additional patrol position commencing in July that will allow an additional patrol officer to be assigned to weekend days where staff is often overwhelmed by demands associated with the phenomenon of "day drinking" and the remnants of the night before. It is my hope that with the established and successful POP position and the augmented patrol staff on the weekend day shift, coupled with the coordinated efforts with Code Enforcement regarding rental enforcement issues, additional staff may offer some solace as we address the myriad of challenges faced by the department. The current composition of the agency staff of twenty-one (21) sworn officers is sixteen (16) males and five (5) females.

I have reviewed each line in the budget to present an operating budget that attempts to meet all of the needs and demands of the Durham community with no more than a status quo approach. It remains that the police department budget is dominated by human resource expenditures, representing the largest segment of the 2019 budget. Commodities, community programs and training routinely decrease in order to keep annual personnel cost allocations in check. With the State of New Hampshire shifting retirement costs to the municipalities benefit cost associated with personnel are a significant challenge that poises a significant challenge to Durhametee the 2019

A NATIONALLY ACCREDITED LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCY

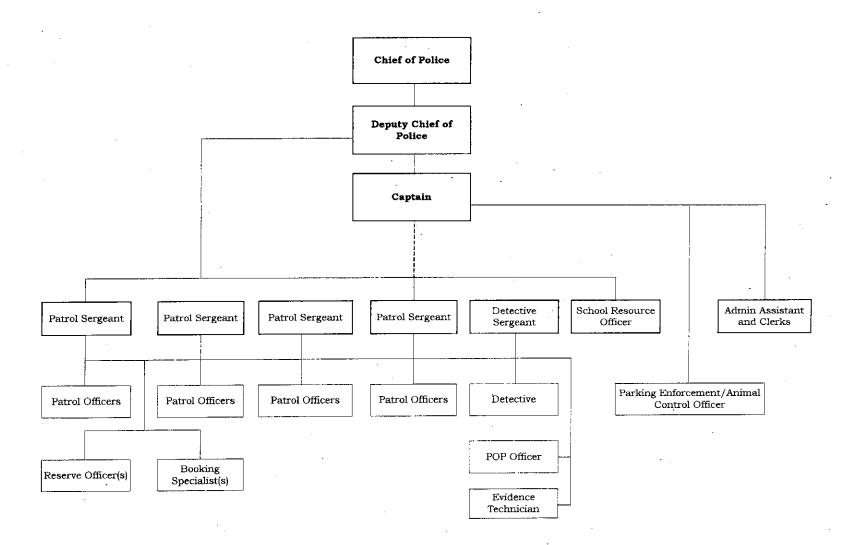

RENE H. KELLEY Deputy Chief DAVID HOLMSTOCK Captain operating budget, slightly more than 92% supports personnel operating costs while 6% support the mission of the police by purchasing gasoline, maintaining equipment and providing access to critical computerized data. The remaining 2% of the budget is distributed equally between training our employees and supporting community programs. Because of these realities, the entire agency is committed to challenging itself to search for, evaluate and implement innovative strategies that will enable the agency to perform in a cost efficient manner.

Durham Police are committed to the development of a comprehensive suite of performance measures for police agencies. Given the broad spectrum of tasks that police accomplish besides issuing citations and arresting offenders, Durham residents have appropriate expectations that we prevent crime, investigate motor vehicle accidents, solve community problems, reduce disorder, and build lasting community relationships.

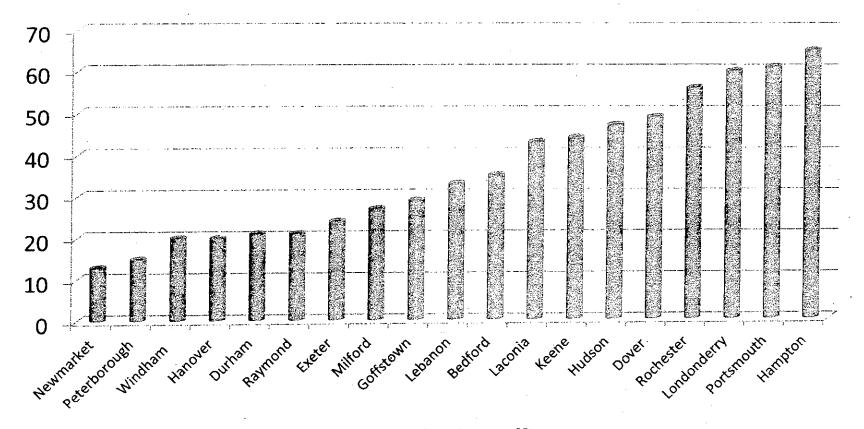

Once again, I thank you for the opportunity of presenting this budget and want to convey my appreciation for the extraordinarily gifted staff of the Durham Police Department as we look forward to working with you and the Council during budget deliberations,

Sincerely, -David L. Kurz Chief of Police

A majority of the funding is used to secure Strafford County prisoner transport vans in the fall and spring when there is a high demand for police services. Cinco de Mayo has been exceedingly problematic with costs for outside agencies approaching about 80% of this line in 2018. All of these events place significant strain upon the agency. Additionally I am proposing to hire a "Subject matter expert" (SME) to accomplish a Job Task Analysis (JTA). We last did one in 2001 through the NH Accreditation Coalition, which no longer offers the service. The importance of a JTA definds the Town in hing, promotions and personnel job descriptions.
