Brendan O’Sullivan Sworn In as Durham Fire Marshal

Brendan J. O’Sullivan was sworn in as Fire Marshal by Durham Town Clerk Lorrie Pitt in a small ceremony held at the Durham Fire Department on Friday, April 2, 2021. Brendan was pinned during the ceremony by his wife, Gail, and son, Kiegan.

The ceremony began with an invocation led by Reverend Larry Brickner-Wood and featured remarks by Durham Fire Chief David Emanuel, Durham Town Administrator Todd Selig, UNH Police Chief Paul Dean, and Durham Fire Captain Nathan Katz.

Brendan began his employment with the Town of Durham on March 15, 2004 and during his tenure, he has served in the roles of Firefighter and Fire Inspector. With his strong dedication and commitment to service, Brendan’s knowledge, skills, and abilities will be a tremendous asset as Fire Marshal in the Prevention Bureau. Brendan enjoys meeting and talking with people and his ability to build relationships within our community will be significant in leading the Prevention Bureau forward.

Congratulations Brendan!
