Hi Karen, I'd be grateful if you could forward this email to the PB for their meeting with the plaza planners April 15, with my very strong request for further meeting plans be put on hold at this time. Durham citizens, such as myself, who are extremely concerned about plaza plans, feel very limited in being a vital part of redevelopment plans. Not all of us have the technological ability or have other limiting factors enabling us to attend or be part of P.B.meetings. We need to let the Planning Board hear our concerns, as the developer's plans, which are often flawed, continue. This is a very vulnerable time, there are so many uncertainties with the town and UNH so limited and many of us needing to stay home.

It would be extremely prudent and would be evidence that the developers really do more than say they care about the impact on the town, by rescheduling meetings for a time when many citizens aren't so distracted or deeply involved in the terrible situation so many of us are facing with this pandemic.

Thank you and to the Planning Board for their time and efforts to represent a wide swath of those of us for whom a good plaza plan without so many detrimental aspects could come to fruition. Sincerely, Phyllis Heilbronner, 51 Mill Pond, Rd.
