

SECTION 106 CONSULTING PARTY PROCESS IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

In the National Historic Preservation Act (NHPA), Congress established a comprehensive program to preserve the historical and cultural foundations of the Nation as a living part of community life. Section 106 of NHPA is crucial to that program, because it requires consideration of historic preservation in the multitude of Federal actions that take place throughout New Hampshire and nationwide.

Section 106 requires Federal agencies to consider the effects of their actions on historic properties and provide the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation (ACHP) an opportunity to comment on Federal projects prior to implementation.

To successfully complete Section 106 review, Federal agencies must:

- Determine if Section 106 of NHPA applies to a given project and, if so, initiate the review;
- Gather information to decide which properties in the project area are listed in or eligible for the National Register of Historic Places;
- Explore alternatives to avoid or reduce harm to historic properties;
- Determine how historic properties might be affected; and
- Reach agreement with the State Historic Preservation Officer (SHPO)/tribe (and the ACHP in some cases) on measures to deal with any adverse effects

Who Are “Consulting Parties”?

The following parties are entitled to actively participate as consulting parties during Section 106 review:

- State Historic Preservation Officers
- Native American tribes
- Local governments
- Historical Societies
- Historical Commissions
- Individuals and organizations with a demonstrated interest in the undertaking

Other individuals and organizations with a demonstrated interest in the project may participate in Section 106 review as consulting parties “due to the nature of their legal or economic relation to the undertaking or affected properties, or their concern with the undertaking’s effects on historic properties.”

Consulting parties are entitled to share their views, receive and review pertinent information, offer ideas, and consider possible solutions together with the Federal agency and other consulting parties.

Consultation does not mandate a specific outcome. It is the process of seeking consensus about how the effects on historic properties should be handled.
